Gospel Reflection

“PLUNGED” AND “CLEANSED”

Clear parallels exist between the characters in today’s scripture stories and our own lives as Christians. Just as Naaman was “plunged into the Jordan” (2 Kings 5:14) we were plunged—the word “baptize” is derived from a root word meaning “plunge”—into the waters of baptism. Just as Naaman became “like . . . a little child” (2 Kings 5:14), in baptism we were born into new life as children of God. Just as the lepers in the Gospel turned to Jesus for mercy and “were cleansed” and “healed” (Luke 17:14, 15), we, too, were washed clean and healed of our sins in baptism. Finally, like both Naaman and the Samaritan leper, most of us have never been members of the Jewish people. Yet we are among those of whom the Letter to Timothy speaks: In baptism we were “chosen, so that [we] too may obtain the salvation that is in Christ Jesus, together with eternal glory” (2 Timothy 2:10).

GIVING THANKS

We who have received so much healing through Christ should devote our lives to giving God thanks and praise. All of us were “foreigners” until we were baptized. None of us deserves God’s daily mercy and care. And it is through our public expressions of thanks for God’s grace in our lives that others come to know the saving power of Jesus Christ. Thus, public thanksgiving is central to the life of Christian discipleship. The Eucharist is our primary means of giving public praise and thanks to God. Together we give thanks for the gifts of creation and the covenant. We give thanks for the gift of salvation that is ours through Jesus Christ and for the gifts of abundant life, unity, and healing that the Holy Spirit continually pours out on us. During the Eucharist we also “sing joyfully to the LORD” (Psalm 98:4) in thanksgiving for the daily gifts of God in each of our lives. In the words that we say before every Eucharistic Prayer, “It is right to give [God] thanks and praise.”

SAINT TERESA OF JESUS (1515-1582)
October 15

Let nothing disturb you; let nothing frighten you. Gifted with a passionate spirit, young Teresa dreamed of converting Muslims and becoming a martyr. All things are passing; God never changes. But her mother's death when Teresa was fourteen inspired lifelong devotion to Our Lady, and Teresa entered the Carmelites, Mary's order, despite her father's objections and her own fragile health. Patience gains everything. Initially, she enjoyed her lax convent's sociability and "busyness," but mystical prayer and John of the Cross' collaboration inspired her to reform the Carmelites. Whoever has God, lacks nothing. When her ideals encountered resistance and brought suffering, she maintained her peace—and humor. Discovered devouring leftovers, she told her mildly scandalized nuns, "When I fast, I fast! When I eat, I eat!" To nuns demanding less work and more prayer in the convent schedule, she retorted: "What we really need around here are fewer starry eyes and more strong arms!" God alone is enough! The italicized sentences here are her "Breviary Bookmark," the simple, profound prayer of Teresa, the first woman Doctor of the Church.

Weekly Message:

En Theos — Enthusiasm For The Faith

Is it wrong to go to someone who claims to speak to the dead? I've been invited to go to see a medium and am not sure if I should.

The Bible is very clear that consulting with ghosts and spirits or seeking oracles from the dead are an abomination to the Lord. According to Deuteronomy 18:10-12, "Let there not be found among you anyone who [is a]...caster of spells, nor one who consults ghosts and spirits or seeks oracles from the dead. Anyone who does such things is an abomination to the LORD..."

There is something about the whole process of speaking with the dead that goes against faith and allowing God to be God. The Catechism of the Catholic Church sums it nicely in paragraph 2116: "conjuring up the dead or other practices falsely supposed to 'unveil' the future...and recourse to mediums all conceal a desire for power over time, history, and, in the last analysis, other human beings, as well as a wish to conciliate hidden powers. They contradict the honor, respect and loving fear we owe to God alone." In other words, the church is not denying that such power may exist, but we live life as the Lord teaches us, trusting in his providence and relying on his will for our lives. We do not seek to grasp control, nor allow others-human or supernatural-to direct our lives. Such practices violate the first commandment.

Youth under age 25 admitted free. Make Plans Now!

Tom's Meanderings

Do you play the lottery regularly? I know there are a lot of people ahead of me at Super America that do. I used to. For quite a while, I would go in regularly and choose my six numbers. They would always have to do with my family, since there are six of us. I'd choose ages, birthdays, months of birthdays – you get the idea. One day after buying a ticket, I was walking to my car when the thought struck me – I've already won. Here I was using my family to help me win, when all along they were my grand prize. I have a wonderful wife, and four great kids – what more could I want? As the saying goes, I was knee deep in a river and still feeling thirsty.

How often I miss what is going on before my eyes. Reading through this bulletin, I see all of the wonderful ways our communities are making the most of life, of their time, talent, and treasure as the stewardship phrase has it. I've put a few pictures on facebook of our Confirmation class, CCD, getting ready for the women's retreat, the Twice Blessed Thrift Store. Here are great people doing great things in the small ways that we all have. Just last week we celebrated St Therese, the Little Flower, who is patroness of the "little way." All of us have these little ways of taking care of each other. Let's stand in that river and never be thirsty.

I'm away this weekend with another of my blessings, my older brother. Growing up, I didn't always consider him such, but over the years we have come to love and appreciate each other in many ways. We're in Erie, the city of my birth – his too. We take this trip every so often to catch up on things back home. We moved from there in 1954, so there's a lot to catch up on. How do you stay up to date with things?

How are you with little children? Our Sunday Morning Nursery needs a few more adults and youth to take care of them so their parents – and the rest of the community -can worship with fewer distractions. Give me a call this week.

Enjoy the week. Look in the mirror and see Jesus.

The Senior Connection

10 Steps to Increase Your Memory

Most seniors will readily admit that their “memory ain’t what it used to be”. In other words “they forget a lot.” If you find this happening to you there is a way to reduce this embarrassing problem. Try the following:

- Games: Play games that call for thinking and evaluating like playing cards or, learn to play word puzzles, scrabble, or a new card game.
- Start a diary: Seniors have done a lot over their life spans; writing down some of the things they did as children can be mentally challenging.
- Focus on nutrition: Proper nutrition is vital, particularly a diet strong in antioxidants which can include fresh fruits and vegetables.
- Stop smoking: Of course, this will be a challenge but the longer one smokes the more damage there can be to the lungs, body and the brain.
- Start walking: Physical exercise and movement is vital to the functioning of the brain. So don’t sit around watching T.V. get moving!
- Invite visitors: Loneliness is a real downer for older adults. Invite a few friends over for a visit; socializing can be a good way to improve brain function.
- Keep laughing: There’s something to be said for the old saying “laughter is the best medicine”. So find a way to laugh again like watching old movies.
- Get out of the house: Try to get out of the house at least once a week even if it’s just as simple as going for lunch with someone. Check activities offered through your church.
- Recognize gains: Give yourself credit for trying something new. Change can be scary for older adults but it can also be beneficial to both the body and the brain.
- Learn a new hobby thru JCPS Adult Education Courses. Early Bird registration can save you $10. Call 485-3400 or visit www.lifelonglearning4u.com for the latest catalog.

Card Shower Planned For STM Parishioner Who Will Turn 100 Years Old

On October 24th, 2010, STM parishioner, Alma Heck, will be 100 years old!! Alma was an active member of STM for 50 years, and although she has lived in Florida with her daughter, Lillian, for some time now she still considers herself a member of STM. Lillian has let us know that her mom loves to read the STM bulletins and speaks of how she misses her friends and the activities she used to do. It is our hope that many parishioners will participate in a card shower for Alma! Being that her birthday is on Sunday, we ask you to mail them so she will receive them on the Saturday before. Her address is:

Ms. Alma Heck
96 Westchester Lane
Palm Coast, Florida 32164

She will be remembered in intentions at the 10:30 Mass on October 24th for those who care to attend.
